School & Community

The Central Bucks School District is located 25 miles north of Philadelphia in Bucks County. It is comprised of nine municipalities with the borough of Doylestown being the largest population center. District enrollment for the 2014-2015 school year is just under 20,000 students. The district has fifteen elementary schools, five middle schools and three senior high schools.

Central Bucks High School East is a three year comprehensive high school with an approximate enrollment of 1640 students. Students may also attend a vocational-technical institute operated in cooperation with four other school districts. Central Bucks High School East is accredited by the Middle States Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges and the Pennsylvania Department of Education. The professional staff numbers 103 including a psychologist, nurse, six counselors, and four administrators.

Curriculum

Central Bucks operates under a 4x4 block scheduling model. There are four ninety minute instructional periods per day. Most students move on to new courses after nine, eighteen, or twenty seven weeks. Students are able to accelerate study in this model. All core academic subjects are enhanced with elective course offerings which include business, media, fine arts, music, architecture, engineering, and computer technology.

Academic, Honors, and Advanced Placement courses are offered beginning in Grade 10. The majority of AP classes become available to students in Grade 11. However, it should be noted that time and course length may limit the total number of AP courses a student may take. Honors level courses are offered in the core academic subject areas with the exception of mathematics. Accelerated math classes are not weighted. The World Language courses are offered beginning in Grade 8. Students have the opportunity to attend Middle Bucks Institute of Technology (MBIT). MBIT offers a complete array of career development, technical training, and pre-professional programs. The district graduation requirements require career and technical students to meet all core academic requirements.
