Writing Prompts

Mother Nature says she's skipping spring this year. Write her a letter in reply.	How would you spend a day with no electricity?	Would you rather explore a locked garden with overgrown weeds or a wild jungle known for quicksand?	Describe dinner where the table is a high-speed conveyor belt.	You are a spy who must smuggle a block of cheese into a foreign country. How will you do it?
What is one language you would like to learn? Why?	Describe your secret hideaway and tell what you would do there.	Imagine helium balloons could lift your house. Tell what happens next.	Describe the most boring day you've ever had, but make it sound not boring at all!	Write what you imagine a cat is thinking as she quietly sits and watches a bird.
What is your favorite color? List three adjectives to explain your choice.	Would you rather parachute from a plane, cross Niagara Falls on a tightrope, or sail around the world by yourself? Why?	How do April showers make you feel? What are your rainy day activities?	If you had the power to eliminate one thing from the world, what would you choose to get rid of? Why?	What would you do if you could be invisible for a day?
Would you rather look weak but actually be strong or look strong but actually be weak?	If your family didn't need to sleep, what would you do at night?	Describe a bad habit you'd like to break and how you could change your ways.	Would you rather eat healthily or exercise regularly? Why?	If you could be any animal in the world for 24 hours, which animal would you be? Why?
