One day my dad told me to go get a water so I went down stairs and got a water. Then when I came up the stairs I tripped and the cap hit the side of the doorway! Water came gushing out of the jug of water and I had to clean it up all by my self. That is my water story.

Once when I was in New Jersey and I treaded. This might not seem like a big deal but it is. It is because I was treading for 20 minutes! No joke and when I got out I was so tired I almost couldn't walk. It was crazy and very tiring.

One water story I have is when I went to ducht springs. I remember every splash into the lake feeling the water get soaked up by my life vest. I remember every time I sprinted down the blown up obstacle course that lay in the lakes water. And when I got to the top I either slid down the ramp at fast speeds and skid across the water. Or I jumped of diving into the water. I felt the cold water trickle down my spine. That day at ducht springs was awesome and that is my water story.

One day just like any other at Hershey Park. Dad was helping me swim and he said "Why don't you try to swim by yourself?" And I said "ok" I was very scared but I knew I had to try, so I jumped in....I was doing it! I was swimming! That was the best day of my life

A few days ago, I went to Ringing Rocks. I didn't just ring rocks, I also saw a waterfall. I got really close, and wet. It was huge, the largest waterfall in Bucks County. I really enjoyed it.

I went to the beach I was excited to go in the water but when I got there, there was a thunderstorm! The weather app said it was sunny and not a cloud in sight but it was WRONG! Me Eli and mom were drenched from head to toe. We didn't even get to go in the water. So we ended up in the arcade for like an hour and we walked up and down the boardwalk. Then we left.

Once when I was in Mexico I was going snorkeling. My sister Olivia hates sea creatures so she would not leave the boat and she made my dad hold her hand. Then we met a sea turtle so she missed meeting one of her favorite animal a sea turtle. On the way back to the hotel a man puked on me and Olivia.

I went to Hershey Park and went to the water park. Then me and my dad went on the snake pit. It took a long time to get up there. When we didn't just wanted to get down. But then we got in the capsule thing. Then I heard "3" "2" "1" straight down I went it was not fun but I did it.

My little sister Erin's first time at the beach was scary, because she was playing in the water looking for sea crabs to put in her sand castle, with my dad. They played for a couple of hours. Then my dad went to reapply his sunscreen. As he turned around he saw my soaked sister walking off the beach.

One day I was at the sunny and yet cool beach. The sun stung my eyes. And the sand burned my blistered toes so I decided to go into the water. The water was smooth and the shells pinched my feet. So we went deeper where the pull is harder. I loved it I turned around to look at my mom! She screamed "Watch Out"! What I said. It was too late I fell to the ground the salty gross water stung my nose and tasted bad in my mouth. I will never turn around again. I will keep my mom next to me.

Last year at Ocean City my grandmother, my brother Erik and I went to the boardwalk to get there ice cream. But there was one problem – we were caught in a rainstorm! We went to the nearest store to get out of the rain – the candy store! We didn't get any ice cream – but we did get candy! Yum!

When I was on my grand parents boat we were on very wavy waves from the wake of the other boats. We were going really fast. We bumped over a wave. The water went in the boat. We all laughed. Then we hit another wave. My moms hat flew off. Well that's the end of your hat I said.

On April 8, 2016, my family and grandparents and I went to Great Wolf Lodge. As we changed into our swimsuits, we waited in line to ride on the water slide. When was our turn, we all got on a raft and slid down on the big slide. As we slid down, water splashed on us. It smelled salty. After another slide dip, I felt water all over me. I felt soggy and slippery. When the ride was over, there a big SPLASH! We all smelled sweaty and we were all soaked. It was a really fun time!

One day, me and my family (including my aunt, uncle, etc) went to the beach. Me and my uncle went down to the ocean. Then, out of nowhere, the ocean decided to EAT ME. It wouldn't let me go to shore, and I also swallowed some salt water, too. It hurt! I honestly felt like someone shoved something down my throat. My uncle had to pull me to shore.
