All are welcome

From Coach Barno

- Congratulations to the varsity girls' basketball team on extending their record to 3-0 yesterday at Log college. The girls implemented a new defense and shut down the top scorer in the league, holding her to 0 points. The girls executed well on offense, and when the shots fell in the second half, they pulled away to a comfortable 26-9 victory. Come support the girls when they are back in action at home next week!
- Great job ladies!!!!

From Mrs. Repper

- Congratulations to the 7th grade Orchestra, String Ensemble and the 8th & 9th grade Orchestra for an Outstanding Concert last Night. All performers should be very proud of their performances!

Attention Tour of the 20th Century Performers

- Jack Reilly and skit performers need to come down after checking in with their 2nd period teachers, so they can practice with mics on stage for the first 25-30 minutes of 2nd period
- 9th grade H-Factor members are dismissed from class at 8:45 so they can come down and do a run through in the auditorium once the skit practice is done.

From the Legally Blonde Production Staff –

All students who auditioned for Legally Blonde – please sit down with a parent in the next few days and complete our Legal Blonde performer survey. The link for the survey can be found on Mr. Glaser's website front page and on Ms. Ambrosini's Musical News page. The survey asks basic questions about your schedule and the time commitment you are willing to put in as part of the cast. Please complete the survey by next Thursday. Thank you!

From the musical staff-

- There will be an informational meeting on Wednesday, December 13th during I/E for any student interested in being a part of backstage, sound, art, and/or makeup crew for Holicong's production of Legally Blonde Junior. Any interested student should sign up for the session in Edificiency and plan to come to the auditorium on Wednesday, December 13th. We hope to see you there!
