

Daily Announcements for Thursday, June 13, 2019 – A Day

Holicong Mr. Vogelsinger's Classes: If Mr. Vogelsinger's students want to receive your letter to yourself during senior year, please make sure you bring your self-addressed stamped envelope to Mr. Vogelsinger before the end of the school day on June 14th.

Holicong Talent Show: 9th grade Talent Show participants and crew, your talent show starts at approximately 8:30 this morning. All 9th grade performers and crew should report to the auditorium between 7:30-8:00 so we can get organized and double check that everything is ready. 7th & 8th grade Talent Show participants and crew, your talent show starts at approximately 12:40 this afternoon. You may come down to the auditorium any time after 11:30. All performers must be down by 12:00 at the latest.

Holicong Summer Reading: If you have not signed up for summer reading at Holicong, for next year, please talk to your Advisory teacher or English teacher for details. You must be signed up for a book by the end of this week. Happy reading!

Holicong Students: If you are not returning to Holicong in the fall because you are moving or transferring to another school, please stop in the guidance office and see Mrs. McCusker. If you are in 7th or 8th grade you will need to turn in your school laptop, bag, charger and pen to Mrs. McCusker in the guidance office on Wednesday, June 12th.

Holicong Library Books: All library books were due last week. If you do not return your book by today, you will be issued a bill to replace the book. Please check your locker and at home for any books you still owe to avoid paying for books that are not returned.

Sevenatenine: The last post of this year's literary magazine just went live. Visit us at www.sevenateninemagazine.blogspot.com or click the link of the Holicong home page.
