Frequently Asked Questions

- Will my child have to be online at a specified time for live teaching?
  - No. I will not be teaching or presenting information in a live format. Many of our families are juggling working while caring for children so offering a time that all children could attend would not be feasible. Additionally to present a clear and concise lesson, a pre-recorded video or video link will be uploaded to Teams for your child to view as direct instruction.
- Is there a certain time of day my child needs to complete work?
  - No. Some families are early birds while others complete work after dinner. I do ask that you try to complete assignments the day they are assigned so that I can keep up with feedback and reviewing how your child's is managing with the skills/concepts taught daily.
- Work in Phase 1 was optional. Is work in Phase 2 mandatory?
  - Yes. I will be providing instruction on new content and the activities to follow up will demonstrate your child's comprehension of these new skills and concepts. It will be important for your child to complete work so that I can determine if your child is making "satisfactory" or "unsatisfactory" progress during the third trimester.

- Should I be correcting my child's work before we turn it in?
  - No. It is more helpful for me to see the misconceptions your child may have to inform future instruction. However, giving a suggestion or asking a questions to prompt him/her is a normal part of the learning process.
- Do we need to review your feedback?
  - Yes. We learn best from timely and specific feedback. It is important for your child to hear from me so we can maintain our connection, but also so your child can continue to learn and grow. You may want to schedule time for reviewing feedback in your day prior to starting a lesson or the day's work.
- I am overwhelmed! What should I do?
  - Please reach out so that I can help. This is a stressful time, and this is not something you should worry about. Whatever the issue is, we can work together to find a solution.
