

Into Hiding Assignment

Tonight at dinner, your parents tell you that you will be leaving your home. There is a chance that you will never return. It will be as if you have disappeared; no one can know. You need to pack the things you care about most in your backpack. You will be leaving by foot and you can't look suspicious or like you are going away.

Option One

Take a video of yourself actually putting your five most precious possessions into your backpack. This is done at home. You need to explain each item and why is it important to you.

Option Two

Bring your backpack and your five most precious possessions to class. You need to explain each item and why is it important to you. (Be careful with the items you choose to bring to school; we don't want something very special to break or get destroyed.)

Option Three

Make a PowerPoint about your five most precious possessions. Use clipart and/or pictures. You need to explain each item and why is it important to you; you should type this on the slide and say it to the class. Use the template.

Point Deductions

You will lose 2 points each for any of the following:

- Not prepared on due date
- Items do NOT fit into your backpack.
- Phones
- Tablets Computers
- Anything that needs electricity
- Food
- Pets/live animals
- Weapons
- Computers
- If you aren't sure about it, you probably shouldn't use it.
