

Name: _____ Date: _____

Write the correct form of possessive noun in the blanks to correctly complete the sentences.

(1) You can see that these _____ tails are considerably longer than the others.
(mice)

(2) You also need to paint the _____ frames.
(windows)

(3) _____ eyes are as blue as a tropical lagoon.
(Angela)

(4) The _____ vibrant color had faded from years of being on display in the shop window.
(photos)

(5) The policeman asked to see my _____ license.
(dad)

(6) There are many rare animals living deep in _____ jungles.
(Africa)

(7) The _____ dog had puppies last weekend.
(Andersens)

(8) Each of these _____ addresses is incorrect.
(letters)

(9) One of the _____ keys has popped off.
(keyboard)

(10) When we showed up uninvited at _____ house his dad generously ordered pizzas for us.
(Jesse)

(11) These _____ erasers have been all used up.
(pencils)

(12) _____ lecture covers chapter three of the textbook.
(today)

(13) The _____ walls are so thin that you can hear through them easily.
(apartments)

(14) The beauty of _____ sunsets is absolutely awesome.
(California)

ANSWER KEY

Write the correct form of possessive noun in the blanks to correctly complete the sentences.

- (1) You can see that these mice's tails are considerably longer than the others.
(mice)
- (2) You also need to paint the windows' frames.
(windows)
- (3) Angela's eyes are as blue as a tropical lagoon.
(Angela)
- (4) The photos' vibrant color had faded from years of being on display in the shop window.
(photos)
- (5) The policeman asked to see my dad's license.
(dad)
- (6) There are many rare animals living deep in Africa's jungles.
(Africa)
- (7) The Andersens' dog had puppies last weekend.
(Andersens)
- (8) Each of these letters' addresses is incorrect.
(letters)
- (9) One of the keyboard's keys has popped off.
(keyboard)
- (10) When we showed up uninvited at Jesse's house his dad generously ordered pizzas for us.
(Jesse)
- (11) These pencils' erasers have been all used up.
(pencils)
- (12) Today's lecture covers chapter three of the textbook.
(today)
- (13) The apartments' walls are so thin that you can hear through them easily.
(apartments)
- (14) The beauty of California's sunsets is absolutely awesome.
(California)