Dear parents, family members, community members, and friends:

Thank you for attending this evening's performance. These young artists have worked very hard to prepare the program you will enjoy tonight. They should take great pride, as do I, in the amount of musical growth they have made as they have prepared for this performance. It brings me great joy to have the pleasure to work amongst such uncommonly talented young people.

I am proud to be an educator in a community that so highly values the arts. Central Bucks West is a unique institution where students can push the boundaries of art and find new outlets for their creativity in both the visual and performing arts. Tonight's performers have done a magnificent job expressing their artistry through their music.

We hope you enjoy the fruits of their labor.

Sincerely,
