

This or That Menu! Grades K-2

Sight Word, Phonics & Fluency Practice	I Can Read to Self and Think About My Reading	I Can Write!	I Can Show Stamina!
I can rainbow write my words for the week on a piece of paper, outside with chalk or use my art supplies. 	I can read my book to my family, friends or stuffed animals and talk about the pictures.	I can write to my teacher about my day, a book I've read or a video I've watched. I can edit it to make sure that I have complete sentences and capital letters.	I can read for more than 20 minutes!
I can write my spelling words in a sentence or story! 	I can record myself reading and send it to my teacher or post it on SeeSaw. 	I can write or draw about a story I've read, a favorite character, or scene. I can even add a lot of details!	I can write a story with a beginning, middle, and end and read it to a family member, friend or stuffed animal.
I can practice letter sounds/sight words using an app at home! (see Parent Resources) 	I can read or listen to a book on Epic, TumbleBooks or StoryLine online. 	I can write a list of things in my house, things I see outside, or things that I like to do, or even create a shopping list.	I can learn about a topic and take a quiz on BrainPop!
I can play a game with my sight words: Three Cards Down (see Parent Resources) Memory Hang Man Tic-Tac-Toe	After reading a story, I can fill out a character trait map (see Parent Resources) or a story map to help me think about what I've read.	I can write a letter to my friend or teacher about facts I learned or questions I have after reading a nonfiction book or article. 	I can write as many words as I know how to spell on my own. I can read my list to an adult or friend.
Look through one of your books and see how many of your sight words you can find. Tally up how many you find:  Can you find digraphs, vowel teams or other word patterns? Try coding them!	I can retell the story I've read to someone, being sure to include the characters, setting, beginning, middle, end, problem and solution. 	I can write 3 questions about my story/passage. Then I can record where I found the answers in the text: page ____	When I am reading, and I get stuck on a word, I do not give up. I can... Look at the picture  Make the beginning sound  Think about what makes sense  Look for parts I know split

I can make words with my Foundations letters (K,1st). I can sort my words from Word Their Way (2 nd)	After reading a nonfiction text, I can list the facts I've learned or write them in a journal.	I can write down questions I have about a story before, during and after I read.	I can reread a story to practice my fluency. I record my reading on SeeSaw.
I can read my Phonics Word Chunks as fluently as I can in one minute. (see Parent Resources.)	I can complete a book rating or recommendation (see Parent Resources) for a book I've read. I can add a drawing, too!	I can write a poem using one or more of my sight words.	I can spend time free writing on a topic of my choice. I can get all my ideas down on paper! Drawing pictures first always helps!