The following students represent the Boomerang Youth Recognition Award for May's Asset #37 Personal Power

Young person believes that they can effect change and make a difference in their school and/or community. They believe that they have some control over things that happen in their world, that things just don't happen to them.

Boomerang Youth Recognition Award

Elementary School: Ronan Farrell Bridge Valley ES Grade 6

Ronan defines the true meaning of Personal Power. My first interaction with Ronan, dates back to February 14th of this year with a visit to Al duPont Hospital to meet my long awaited student, which I had heard so much about. As we spent the day together, I quickly realized that this young boy, who had dealt with near death occurrences, on-going pain and extreme adversity, was not going to allow these challenges to determine his journey in life. Ronan returned to school this past March, in the general education classroom, after being out of school, due to a traumatic brain injury dating back to last July 2016.

As an elementary teacher we come across many new situations and experiences. Quoting one of my favorite novels, Phantom Tollbooth, "Expect the Unexpected, and the Unexpected will never happen" is a quote that I share with my students each year, meaning be prepared in life, for all that comes in front of you. (Con't page 3)

Middle School: Areej Alfeen Lenape Middle School Grade 9

Areej embodies the personal power asset. She moved to the United States last year from Kuwait. Areej is polite and excited to embark on a new adventure became a great self-advocate. She found friends right away and worked hard to maintain those relationships by being respectful to peers and adults. When she first struggled a bit with writing, particularly grammar, she came to guidance to see what she could do. We gave her a grammar workbook to borrow and she took it upon herself to fill in the grammar gaps on her own. After a struggle with science this year, she asked for help and has taken advantage of student helpers and tutors. Areej has helped me understand her religion and has politely requested accommodations at school. She has also volunteered to help others understand so that they can be more accepting. She loaned her guidance counselor a guide on Islamic Civilization so that she could better understand Islam. Areej has shared her personal story of empowerment with other adults and has overcome difficulty to make a life in the United States. We are excited to have Areej as a member of the Lenape family.

High School: Jessica Mandel CB South HS Grade 12

Jessica Mandel is definitely a young person who believes she can make a positive difference in her own life, her school, and the larger community. In this critical senior year, Jessica's choice of colleges and her dogged pursuit to get there exemplifies personal power. She did extensive research (starting years ago) on just the right fit for her and identifies Boston University which she pursued with vigor. On her own, she secured an internship in a special program with the Massachusetts State House for the summer prior to senior year, applied Early Decision to BU, and was not only accepted but also awarded a Presidential Scholarship for her winning essay. She applied to every available non-BU scholarship opportunity as well. At CB South, she was President of People for Pets and planned fundraisers, made posters, emailed supporters, and more. She fits this into her incredibly busy school schedule (with AP classes and exams, choir events, etc.), political activism (where her passion for doing her best to help others also shines through in meetings, marches, petitions, social media, etc. Jessica is a dedicated volunteer and each week drives an hour round-trip to volunteer at A Tabby's Place in NJ, as well as volunteers on Tuesday evenings at A Woman's Place. She glows with stories of cats and children who make her smile just as she helps them.

The 2017 Positive Coaching Award selection committee choose Mike Rush for this year's distinction. Coach Rush coaches both girl's basketball and softball teams. He's involved with Doylestown Athletic Association and CB FYMCA, with 20 years coaching experience on his resume. So many wonderful qualities were described to capture Coach Rush's positive influence on his players but the one stand-out quality overall was the important balance to hard work and fun. He knows if they're too busy having fun, they're too busy to get into trouble. Mike's is an asset to the community by all accounts. Coach Rush will be presented with his Positive Coaching trophy and $500 check at a ceremony later in June.

Backpack Newsflash launches new feature "Principal Spotlight" with Mrs. Sue Klimpl as she prepares for retirement after 27 years in the District.

Principal: Mrs. Sue Klimpl
School: Linden Elementary
Years in CBSD: 27
Favorites: Field Trips and non-fiction books

Mrs. Klimpl's career began where she'll retire at Linden Elementary. Her first teaching position was as an AM kindergarten teacher where she taught for 6 years and then took time off to raise her family. The District recruited her back to Doyle Elementary, then onto Cold Spring, Butler and back to Linden as building principal. Ms. Klimpl thoroughly enjoys reading non-fiction and occasionally will read books in French to keep her language skills in place. She is fluent in French and Spanish which contributes to her ability to chair the District's World Language board and she also serves a board secretary for the Bucks County Symphony. A true lover of the arts and world languages, When she was asked what she'll miss the most about her role was the energy of children and the sound of their laughter and joy.

CB Cares EF wishes Mrs. Klimpl the very best on her retirement.

For Ronan, every day is a new learning...Everyday he is meeting and beating his goals...Everyday he is inspiring a student to be better than they are because they can be...Everyday he touches someone that he meets...Everyday he makes someone smile... Ronan has had to face adversity from many different aspects; physically, mentally, and emotionally, however he comes to school each week ready to just be another 6th grade student in my classroom. He does not complain, when he has to have his gate belt on, he does not ask for help from his Personal Care Assistant, he is a survivor and demonstrates to those around us that we have much to be thankful for and are blessed to be here. His teachers, his caregivers, his family, his friends, his therapists, his community and his peers have been inspired by his story. In life it is not what happens to you, but how you handle it. He has changed my perspective on personal power, and what that really means to me and his peers.
