Our family has had the privilege of knowing Anna Granito since she was three years old. Tessa and Anna met when they were three years old and were in pre-school together at Chesterbook Academy. They have been best friends and inseparable ever since. I often tell people that we hit the best friend jackpot with Anna. Anna is a wonderful peer role model for all those that she meets. She is laid back and drama free. What more could you ask for in a 12-year-old girl? 😊 Tessa and Anna spend most of their free time together. Whether it be playing on the same basketball teams, playing field hockey together, or just being silly, Anna brings joy and happiness to everything that she does and all those around her. She is detail oriented and we laugh because some days she texts me more than my own daughter, clarifying practice locations, pick-up times or other plans. She also gets this same information from her own parents, but in Anna's world, it's always better to be responsible and double check. Anna is polite, kind and as a parent, I am so happy that she is such a big part of Tessa's life. Our family could not have asked for a better second daughter!
