One Pagers

A one pager is a way to visually share ideas and information from what you have learned. When you create a one pager, you are trying to use both visual symbols and important words to clearly and concisely share your most important takeaways with someone else.

You can either use the attached template or create one for yourself.

Here is what you MUST include:

- A border that represents the key themes from what you have read
- An image that has a quotation woven in or around it. This image should represent the main theme of the text
- Images and/or doodled words that represent the key characters from the text and how they have changed
- Images and/or doodled words that represent the key settings from the text and how they have impacted the characters

Textual Analysis RDGL RDFI RDTX RDAZ	Not clear whether the maker of this one-pager read the text.	Shows some understanding of the text, though several points seem confused.	Shows a relatively strong understanding of the text.	Shows a deep understanding of the text.
Required Elements	Very few of the required elements are present.	Several key elements are missing. The one-pager is somewhat scattered.	Almost every required element is on the one-pager.	Every required element is included. Additional elements may also have been added.
Thoroughness	This one-pager barely shows an understanding of the text. Very little detail or depth.	There is not much depth or detail present in the various sections.	While this one-pager is fairly thorough, some sections gloss the surface.	This piece is amazing in its attention to detail.
