The Nurturing Parenting Program provides in-home parent education and case management services designed to build nurturing skills as alternatives to negative parenting attitudes and practices. Trained facilitators use evidence-based assessment tools and curriculum materials to identify high risk parenting practices and beliefs that could potentially put a child at risk. Facilitators customize the curriculum to build on parenting strengths and address weaknesses in order to reduce or eliminate the need for future intervention. These services are free of charge and are open to parents, foster/kinship parents, grandparents, and anyone else caring for children in their custody.

NATIONWIDE SERVICES

Greyhound Community Service: "Home Free"

Greyhound Lines provides free one-way transportation between any two points in the continental US (excluding Alaska) for runaway, homeless, at-risk, Child Welfare adjudicated youth/children as well as victims of human trafficking returning home ("Home Free" program in conjunction with the National Runaway Switchboard).

To receive a free ride home, eligible youth/children ages 12-21 should call the National Runaway Switchboard at 1-800-RUNAWAY (1-800-786-2929). Upon verification, the center will contact Greyhound to make arrangements for free travel. Runaways and those who meet the eligibility requirements may also call a local social service agency, a shelter, or the police, who can also make necessary arrangements through the NRS and Greyhound. Since its inception in 1984, Greyhound Lines' Home Free program has helped return thousands of youth/children to their families.

A request for free transportation under this program must be approved through the National Runaway Switchboard at 1-800-RUNAWAY (1-800-786-2929)
