First Day of School

Tamara’s family had moved again, so she is starting the year at a new school. On her first day, Tamara sits between Luke and Anna. Luke looks away, but Anna smiles at Tamara.

“I like your bows,” says Tamara.

“Thanks!” Anna replies. “We should have lunch together!” Tamara smiles and nods.

It’s the first day of a new school year, but that’s not all that is new. I’m the new kid, again. I’m sick of changing schools! I’m nervous walking to my classroom. Will I make a friend? I sit between Luke and Anna. I say hello and Luke turns away frowning while Anna smiles at me. The bows in her hair are cool, kind of like mine.

“I like your bows,” I say.

“Thanks!” she says. “We should have lunch together!” A big smile forms on my lips and I nod.
