NoodleTools Tips – Database

If you are creating a citation for an article from any of our library’s subscription databases (Gale Student Resource in Context, Gale Opposing Viewpoints, World Book Online, or any ABC-CLIO database), follow the easy instructions below. DO NOT USE THESE INSTRUCTIONS FOR A REGULAR WEB SITE OR SOMETHING YOU FOUND USING A SEARCH ENGINE (SUCH AS GOOGLE).

- Choose “Database” from the Where Is It? pop-up box, then select “Original Content in Database”
- Next to the heading “Quick Cite”, click the link for “Copy & paste a citation”
- Find the source citation on your database article – this can usually be found on the last page or at the bottom of the screen. If you are given a choice, make sure you copy the MLA citation. DO NOT USE APA STYLE.
- On the NoodleTools screen, paste your citation in the “Manually edited citation” box. Do not change any formatting or spacing. You can shorten the Document URL by deleting everything after the “.com”.
- At the bottom of the screen, click the green “Submit” button.
- DONE!
