

Dear Parents & Families,

My name is Mary Farrell, and I am so excited to introduce myself as your child's teacher for this school year, and hopefully alleviate some uncertainty you may be feeling during these coming weeks.

I am so excited to work with you and get to know your child. I am sure that you have many questions, and I will do my best to get answers for you as soon as I can, but there are many things I do not know yet such as schedules and exactly what your child's day will look like. As soon as I receive this information, I will be sure to communicate that to you, and we can work together to prepare your child for a successful start to this school year! As we begin this unusual school year together, please know that we are a team and in this together.

Since I will be spending a great deal of time with your child, I thought I should tell you a little about myself. I have been married for three years, and we have a 20 month old little boy, named Jack. He is light of our lives as I know that your child is to you! I spend all of my free time chasing him around. I attended Temple University, where I was enrolled in an accelerated master's program in Education. I received my Bachelor's degree in Early Childhood/Elementary Education and I have my Master's degree in Special Education along with the Autism Endorsement. While in graduate school, I worked one-on-one as an ABA therapist and therapeutic staff support for children with autism to provide direct therapy both in the home and in the school setting. This will be my eighth year teaching primary autistic support at Buckingham, and I am so excited to get to know you and your child.

This year, I will be working with an amazing team in my classroom! We will be working with your child's general education teacher, speech and language, and occupational therapist to meet your child's needs. My e-mail address is mpfarrell@cbsd.org. Please feel free to contact me anytime. Here's to a wonderful school year!

Sincerely,

Mary Farrell
